Growing Pains Are 'Robbed' In Annual South Fla Meeting

Debt Service Angrily Met But Operation Straining Purses Strings

Three items which were of no consequence a few years ago loom important to South Florida Conservancy District, the $2,000-acre sub-drainage district which embraces most of the land around the shores of Lake Okechobee from Runyan around to the Industrial Canal at Clewiston — rights-of-way, rockpiles and continual increase in use of lands for living purposes.

Since the municipalities of South Bay and Belle Glade are ever-expanding and since we like the water away from our homes as fast as it falls the drainage district must make extra provisions for getting this water away and the bookkeeping for a lot containing from 15 to 30 of an acre is just as much as for a tract of land containing 1500 to 3000 acres. That is quite an item. So the landowners decided at the last annual meeting to ask legislative permission to change the method of assessing homesites in municipalities.

While the district has an easement for access and moving equipment along the canals for maintenance, there is some question whether the kind of travel will be on Tom or Dick's side of the ditch; this will be spelled out by legislative action also.

Then, recently we've begun to dig rock for roads, sometimes privately owned and sometimes by government agencies. In pumping these pits so that the rock can be removed, usually the surrounding land is pumped bone dry and made of no use for farming. Then, sometimes a bunch of dynamite is set off to the discomfort and (Continued on Page Two)

Florida has always provided its 15% of the construction costs in the Overall Flood Control Plan not only on time, but before time. Some of the appropriations by the State Legislature have reverted to the State Treasury because the Federal Government has not kept pace with state appropriations.

There is on deposit with the Engineers in Jacksonville some $900,000 of state money without matching funds from the Federal government, and there is on hand some $2,000,000, also without matching funds.

The Central & Southern Florida Flood Control Board asked the Budget Commission in Tallahassee to allow this money to be advanced against future matching funds of the government, and the Budget Commission, headed by Governor Charlie Johns, gave this consent. It is proposed to spend the money on authorized projects with the agreement of the Engineers, so that there will be no question of full credit being given Florida on its 15%.

It is planned to commence construction on L-2, L-3, the West Palm Beach channel, the Hillsboro channel and the North New River channel, and the construction of the pump installation on the Hillsboro at the western perimeter dike of the conservation area.

Each of these works will contribute greatly to flood prevention in the muck lands around the Lake and all subdrainage districts will benefit greatly in maintenance and operation.

The Congress has been asked to authorize the entire dike enclosing the agricultural area, which will include dikes L-2 to L-6, inclusive.

The Florida Delegation in Washington is being assisted by the members of the Central Flood Board, with Chairman Abney Cox taking the lead and Governor John has sent "Mr. Pete" Peterson, former Congressman to Washington to help his former fellow congressman.

Encouraging information is being sent out of Washington concerning the possibility of addition to the already house-authorized $3,600,000 in the current appropriation bill. A lot of work is being done by individuals with friends in Congress also.

JUNIOR BASEBALL IS DISCUSSED BY LYAL BEFORE ROTARY CLUB

Roscoe Braddock, introduced Lake Lyal to local Rotaryans Friday as one of the organizers and most active participants in the activities of junior baseball in West Palm Beach.

Mr. Lyal discussed the many phases of organizing and conducting Little League and Pony League baseball in a community such as Belle Glade, and told Rotaryans "that this is one of the most important activities that a community can conduct, for you are dealing with young America at its most impressionable age."

"It is also most important," said Mr. Lyal, "that the parents and coaches prepare themselves for this work, for any act of unfairness, when it affects one of these boys, stays with him all during life." "We have found in most cases that the biggest problem in running one of these programs is with the parent."

"Belle Glade started off last year in a very satisfactory program, and it is up to the various clubs of the community to devote whatever time and effort it requires to see that it continues."

The National Guard Has Protected Our Homes Since 1636

"The welfare of our country is the great object to which our cares and efforts ought to be directed"

George Washington
January 8, 1790

100

MEN WANTED

TO GUARD OUR LIVES

...AND HOMES!

Young men, you are urgently needed to help protect our national security!

It has been the peculiar blessing of America to have had a succession of great leaders whose first devotion was to all the people.

Without exception, they have taught us that the security of our country begins in the home.

And, of course, it is a basic truth. The strength of America is simply the strength of one secure home touching that of another.

Our first duty to America is our duty to our own homes. We can do honor to George Washington and all our other great leaders in no better way than to make our homes secure.

The Guard protects lives and property in local disaster... It provides trained units to join our regular forces in time of national emergency. The security of our nation demands a full-manned National Guard.

The need is so great that men who volunteer to serve their country by enlisting in the National Guard between the ages of 17-18½ will be deferred from active military duty so long as they continue to serve satisfactorily - unless, of course, their Guard unit is called in time of national emergency.

You'll have the satisfaction of serving your country and community as a citizen-soldier. And you can enlist in the unit of your choice. What's more, you'll benefit from the many advantages and opportunities open to you as a member of your hometown National Guard unit.

TOP TRAINING started near home while still in school or business. Useful military skills learned from experienced veterans.

EXTRA INCOME from the time spent in training. Qualify for valuable retirement pay.

SPORTS AND RECREATION FACILITIES are available in National Guard installations to Guardsmen, their families and friends.

EDUCATION OPPORTUNITIES qualify you for better paying civilian jobs. Attend regular Army schools with pay or take correspondence courses.

ADVANCEMENT AND PROMOTION as high as your interest, ability, and experience will take you. You may qualify for an officer's commission or an appointment to West Point.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING prepares you to give orders and direct others. Develop those qualities that make you a better man and a leader in your community.

MOLDING LIVES

Many of us do not realize how easily we influence and help to shape the lives of other people. Children are especially impressionable. A child naturally follows in the footsteps of the individuals whom he most admires.

A child's character is molded, just as the lump of clay in the hands of a younger learner, to model clay takes the form she chooses. She is conscious of ability to shape something in the way her imagination and her will direct. Some day she may discover that she has been given a privilege — and the tremendous responsibility — of molding her own character as she uses that same will constructively, day after day and hour after hour. She will discover, too, ways to be better, stronger and kinder and helpful, and may she discover that her kindness, her obedience, her sweetness and her helpfulness to others will help to mold other lives, even though she may sometimes be unaware of her good influence.

We know that moral influences are often exerted unconsciously. A child who plays with other children who lie, cheat, use profanity or steal will certainly be influenced in mind and in character. The influence can help to mold our children's lives. Jesus gave us the wonderful advice, "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in Heaven."

From the War Cry.

NEWS OF JUNIORS AT FIRST BAPTIST SS

The fourth and last lesson in the Junior prayer school was given and the Scripture was taken from Psalm 96:1-3. During the program a world globe was placed in the center of an exhibit with an open Bible in front of the globe and a large picture of Jesus hung above and behind the globe. The song "The Whole Wide World" was the theme song for the program. The program was closed with a series of sentences prayers by Juniors and teachers after which each Junior was presented with a "Prayer School" report card which they were to grade themselves. (This part they liked) for each day next week they said a prayer they were to check the card and bring the card to Sunday school next Sunday. For those with a perfect record there will be a special seal placed on the card.

Martha Faye Davidson was pianist and Willie Buss usher.

Three visitors were welcomed into the Department, and our new member, Judy Farmer, who will be in Mrs. Gladys Edwards' class of 12 year girls.

Mrs. Waddell's class received a letter for the week with Mr. U. Jones' class of 12 year boys were third. This is the first time the 12 year boys have had honorable mention, but this is due to the fact that they have not had a permanent teacher. We feel that in the future the other classes will have to work hard or the 12 year boys will take the banner because it is already evident that they and their new teacher, Mr. Vernon Jones are out to get that banner.

TAX AUTHORITY TO BE HEARD ON SMATHERS PROGRAM

One of the United States Senate's tax authorities will be heard in an interview with Senator George Smathers on his weekly radio program to be broadcast Wednesday, April 7, over WSVN.

Senator Russell B. Long, a member of the senate's Finance Committee which writes tax legislation, will give his views on the current controversy in the Congress over tax reduction proposals.

Smathers, usually answering questions himself on this program will turn questioner and let the guest speaker explain why he is so interested in the program to the committee at the present time.

Long, a Louisiana Democrat, is the youngest member of the Senate, but he has served for the past six years on the Finance Committee and Smathers calls him "one of the ablest" of his colleagues.

The program, transcribed in Washington, will be broadcast locally as a public service by the station management.

Amazing story of Florida's industrial growth.
From the white sands of Miami to the piney woods of the north panhandle, new industries formed the base of the new kind of boom. Time says, "Among the new industries developing in the north are: two skyscrapers now abuilding in Jacksonville for Prudential and Independent Life Insurance companies; St. Regis Paper's giant $18 million plant; General Motors $250,000 expansion of its Elberton, Ala. plant; vision General Foods new Maxwell House Instant Coffee plant, and International Harvester's new $300,000 farm equipment outlet."

"In the west, long known as the 'hog and hominy' country, Chemstrand's $45 million nylon plant at Pensacola is in commercial production; eight pulp and paper plants are in operation and a new $13 million cellulose plant is near completion. Even such a resort center as Miami has new industries, including small sportswear and light metal plants now fanning out into suburbs."

"Florida's agriculture has kept pace with its industry. Time says, 'This year the state will produce the biggest citrus crop in its history and, thanks to the $13 million frozen citrus plant, will be able to sell almost every orange and grapefruit at a good price. Big gains are also shown in cattle raising and vegetable production.'"

Florida business and industrial leaders listed in the article include Edward Ball, who boasts the vast interests of the estate of Alfred Irene duPont, and who, as head of the Florida National Bank chain, has developed many new industries to become established.

The Lykes family, shippers, processors, packers, growers, citrus and cattle operators; Tom Swan, head of Florence Foods; McGregor Smith, president of Florida Power and Light Company; all of whom have played a major part in bringing Florida to its present industrial stature.

Other great industrial developments include sugar growing in the Everglades where the United States Sugar Corporation operates the world's largest sugar mill; mining of such valuable ores as ilmenite and rutile from which the wonder metal titanium is produced; the growing phosphate industry; the opening of new promising oil fields; production of ramie and other fibers, all of which contribute new wealth and economic stability to the state.

Time points out that tourism, while still a major industry that brings millions of dollars to the state annually, does not dominate the state's economy today as it once did. While a skyrocketing of tourist business would hurt, it would not cripple the state as would have been the case a few years ago when there was little or no industrial development.

This splendid article in Time will help to focus national attention on the state and we are indebted to the publishers for featuring it so prominently. It will surprise millions of readers who are still inclined to think of Florida as a playground that depends upon its climatic advantages of sunshine and sunshine, night clubs, horse and dog racing and the like.

Yes, Florida is growing up, and growing fast. Her industrial development is making it possible for her to offer employment to millions who heretofore could not consider the state for lack of income. Our future is indeed bright!

"My Best Buy of the Year"

"Having a telephone put in our farm home was my best buy last year. It saves valuable time in ordering groceries, or getting a doctor or help from a neighbor. The joy it gives me to chat with a neighbor, invite someone to church, inquire about a sick friend, or receive long distance calls from my children in other states—all in all these ways the telephone makes our farm life more worth-while." Mrs. I. E. Bazell, Route 1, Box 164, Mount Main Creek, Alabama.

A lot of people everywhere find as Mrs. Bazell does—that the telephone is their "best buy." On farms, in cities, day in and day out, the telephone serves in so many big and little ways. Yet in cost it is small, less than a penny an hour for the average family.

VETERANS INFORMATION AND SERVICE

— By Melvin T. Dixon —

State Service Officer —

Retrospective Payment Of Compensation Allowed To 3 Dates.

It will be to the advantage of all Korean veterans, who come out of service with physical disabilities, suffered as a result of sickness or injury while in service, to file a claim for compensation as soon after discharge as possible. Compensation payments to Korean veterans for service-connected disabilities may be allowed retroactively to one of three different dates.

1. If a veteran files his application within a year after the date of separation from active service, and it is found that his service-connected disability was severe enough at separation to be compensable, compensation will be paid back to the day following his separation date.

2. If a veteran files his application a year following separation, but his disability was not compensable at separation, retroactive compensation payments are paid back only to the date evidence shows the disability became severe enough to rate compensation.

3. If a veteran files application later than one year after separation, compensation payments are made retroactive to the date of filing only.

I want to make it clear that these circumstances do not imply there is a time limit on filing a claim. Veterans may apply for disability compensation at any time during their lifetime.

Compensation may be paid monthly to veterans who have disabilities which are judged to have been incurred in or aggravated by service.

Don't Let Youngsters Dodge Math In School

Should your kids take science and math in high school and college?

Damn right, say the scientists of America's big industrial companies. They are worried because only 1.4% of high school youths take solid geometry, only about 1.8% take trigonometry, and only 1% of 1% of college students take algebra.

If this continues, says a General Electric scientist, good jobs will go without takers in future years.

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION TO HOLD MEETING

The Florida Medical Association is holding its 80th annual meeting April 23-28, according to announcement recently by Dr. Frederick K. Herpel, president, of West Palm Beach.

As in the past five years, the meeting will be in Hollywood, Fla. The rounding out of 80 years by the medical organization will be marked with little, if any, special ceremonies, Dr. Herpel has stated. As at former annual meetings, the physicians attending will spend their time listening to scientific addresses and surgery.
